

FOREWORD

The Journal of Chemical Society of Nigeria presents her Volume 49 Number 5 of October 2024. The Editorial Board is grateful to have received a good quantity of quality articles in the issue immediately after the CSN Annual conference.

The surge of quality articles for publication as articles is being overcome and Reviewers reports are returning at good speed and frequency. Henceforth, manuscript are to be accompanied with a covering letter which must include name, affiliation, email address and telephone numbers for five (5) possible reviewers that are not part of the authorship. This is to improve professionalism in research from which the manuscript originates. This is with immediate effect please.

We are also having issues with authors trying to add authors after an article has been reviewed and published. It is not a wholesome practice, and this journal tries to distance itself from such practice. More disturbing is the issue of wrong authors name correction. When an author's name is spelt wrongly, it has nothing to do with the journal as authors names and affiliations are not edited or touched, the responsibility lies with the authors to make this good. If the Online version is corrected, it puts it at variance with the hard copies which cannot be corrected once printed. We strive to maintain consistency between the online and hard copy versions and as such cannot make such corrections once the hardcopies are out of press. Thank you for your kind understanding. Henceforth, cover letters will include a declaration that it is the responsibility of the authors to ensure the correctness of their names and affiliations. This issue will make very interesting reading and study and will be a good archive material in the future judging from the high quality of the articles assembled herein.

While the Editorial Board makes every effort to ensure that no misleading information or statement appears in this journal, it is made clear herein that the data and information in the articles and advertisements are the responsibility of the contributor(s) or advertiser.

Consequently, the Editorial Board and their respective staff and agents accepts no responsibility or liability whatsoever for the consequences of any such misleading data or information.
